Forces of Mikado and Czar Each Lose a Vessel Off Shantung Coast.

RUSSIANS SINK WITH THEIR SHIP

Chinese Junks Go to the Aid of the Japs, and But Few of the Crews Are Drowned by Sinking Ships.

(Special by Scripps-McLae.)

Paris, March 5.—The value of a ruble has fallen heavily. The dollar which was exchangeable at the beginning of January at the rates of 73 kopeks is now worth 65 kopeks.

Treaty to Be Disregarded

St. Petersburg, March 5.—Your correspondent is informed that the Japanese Korean treaty will be disregarded not only by Russia, but by Germany, France and Italy. The foreign office does not believe Great Britain and the United States will recognize the treaty.

Japanese Cruiser Sunk

St. Petersburg, March 5.—Major General Pflug telegraphs Wednesday that all is quiet at Port Arthur. Ying How has received information from eye witnesses that a Japanese cruiser with three funnels is lying sunk at the entrance of Chemulpo harbor.

Offer to Chinese

Chefoo, March 5.—The Russian government has ordered Viceroy Alexieff at Mukden to make an offer to the Chinese of a willingness to protect the Manchurian railroad—providing troops, horses, barracks and supplies—on condition that China accords Russia permission to march troops through Chinese territory. The Chinese government is certain to refuse the disingenuous offer.

Takes Time

St. Petersburg, March 5.—Admiral Makoff, en route for the far east arrived today, says a dispatch dated March 5 from Lake Balkhal. He lost five days owing to the congested condition of the road. At present rate the troops will not arrive in Manchuria in sufficient numbers to begin operations before next month.

Smallpox Spreading

St. Petersburg, March 5.—A serious smallpox epidemic is raging in the trans Balkal district. Fear is felt that the scourge will spread to the troops in transit to Manchuria.

Troops Ill

London, March 5.—A dispatch to the Times from Nagasaki says refugees from Port Arthur report that 10,000 Russian troops started for Korea at the beginning of February. They are said to have been so ill equipped with transports and supplies that it is expected that they will have to return.

No Illness

St. Petersburg, March 5.—Colonel Domelungsen, director of transportation in the Irkutsk district, reports in answer to inquiries concerning the alleged sufferings of the Russian troops on the way to the far east: There has not been a single case of frostbite rendering amputation necessary, only occasional slight cases affecting the face, such as might always occur. All men are inspected at Mokotevsk and Lake Balkhal, where there are reserves of warm clothing sufficient for all needs. Not a single man has been sent across Lake Balkhal by my orders without warm clothing.

Lake Balkhal will be a much more formidable obstacle when the ice breaks. There must be an intermediate period when it is too much broken to allow troops to pass over it and yet too thick to allow vessels to pass through. Even when the waterway is clear it will take the supplies coming from the west with such regularity as to avoid a fearful congestion of stores and rolling stock on the Balkal side.

Even Break in War Fight

London, March 5.—News of a naval battle off the Maotau islands, between a Russian and a Japanese warship, in which both ships were sunk, has reached Tientsin.

It is declared that all on board the Russian cruiser went down with the ship, none being saved.

Two hundred men from the sinking Japanese warship were rescued by Chinese junks. The rest of the crew, twenty-eight in number, reached the Maotau islands and thence escaped to the coast of Shantung province. From the few details at hand it cannot be determined just when this battle took place.

Both Vessels Go Down

The Maotau islands are in the middle of the straits of Pechili, and half way between Port Arthur and Tientsin on the Chinese coast.

The news comes from Shanghai in a dispatch, which says:

"A missionary at Tientsin, Shantung province, reports twenty-eight Japanese sailors landed there Feb. 25. They reported their vessel had been sunk between Port Arthur and the Maotau islands in an action with a Russian warship, which sank before their ship foundered. None of the Russians was saved."

Chinese Rescue Japanese.

"Two hundred Japanese were rescued by Chinese junks. The remainder of the crew reached the islands and then the mainland. The Chinese magistrate at Tientsin gave the sailors money to aid them in reaching Chefoo."

According to a Sevastopol dispatch Admiral Skrydloff has learned privately from Port Arthur that the Russian battleship Retvizan lies in such a position as to block effectually the exit of the battleships from the harbor, the passage being practicable only for cruisers.

Occupy Korean Port.

Japan is still closely guarding all movements of troops. Vague dispatches, however, indicate that the army in northern Korea is constantly growing in numbers.

A Shanghai dispatch states that the Japanese have occupied Port Lazareff roadstead on the east coast of Corea, north of Gensan. A large fleet of transports conveyed by warships passed Tushima island, in the strait of Corea, on Thursday, bound for the east coast of Corea, presumably Gensan or Port Lazareff.

Movements of Russians.

A dispatch from Tokio says: "Russian troops recently were conveyed to Posselt bay from Vladivostok and crossed the Tumen river, southward of Ussuriysk and Heilong." "The Russian troops who hitherto have been south of Amur have retired toward the Yalu river."

"The martial law regulations, published at Vladivostok Feb. 9, betray solicitude with regard to provisions."

BOX OF CANDY CONTAINS CORROSIVE SUBLIMATE

Poisoned Sweets Are Sent to South Dakota Girl, Who Is Likely to Die—Suspect Jealous Woman.

Pierre, S. D., March 5.—A case which has just come to light here promises to equal the celebrated California case in which murder was committed by means of a box of poisoned candy sent through the mails. The victim in this case, Miss Rena Nelson, who lives with her parents on a farm six miles north of this city, is not yet dead, but attending physicians express little hope of her recovery.

The poisoned candy was received and eaten early in the week, but the matter has been kept quiet until the fact that the sweets contained poison had been established and the person suspected of sending it had been located.

The box containing the candy was mailed at Boone, Ia., and, according to the state chemist at the agricultural college at Brookings, who analyzed what remained of the candy, the poison used was corrosive sublimate.

Miss Nelson accuses a married woman residing at Boone, Ia., of being the sender of the candy, and gives as a reason for the act jealousy because of her husband's infidelity.

isted between herself and the husband of the woman accused.

Sheriff Laughlin wired the authorities at Boone to arrest the woman accused, but they refused to do so without a warrant. The sheriff will leave with the necessary papers, and an arrest will follow. It is expected that a strong fight will be made to prevent the extradition of the woman to this state.

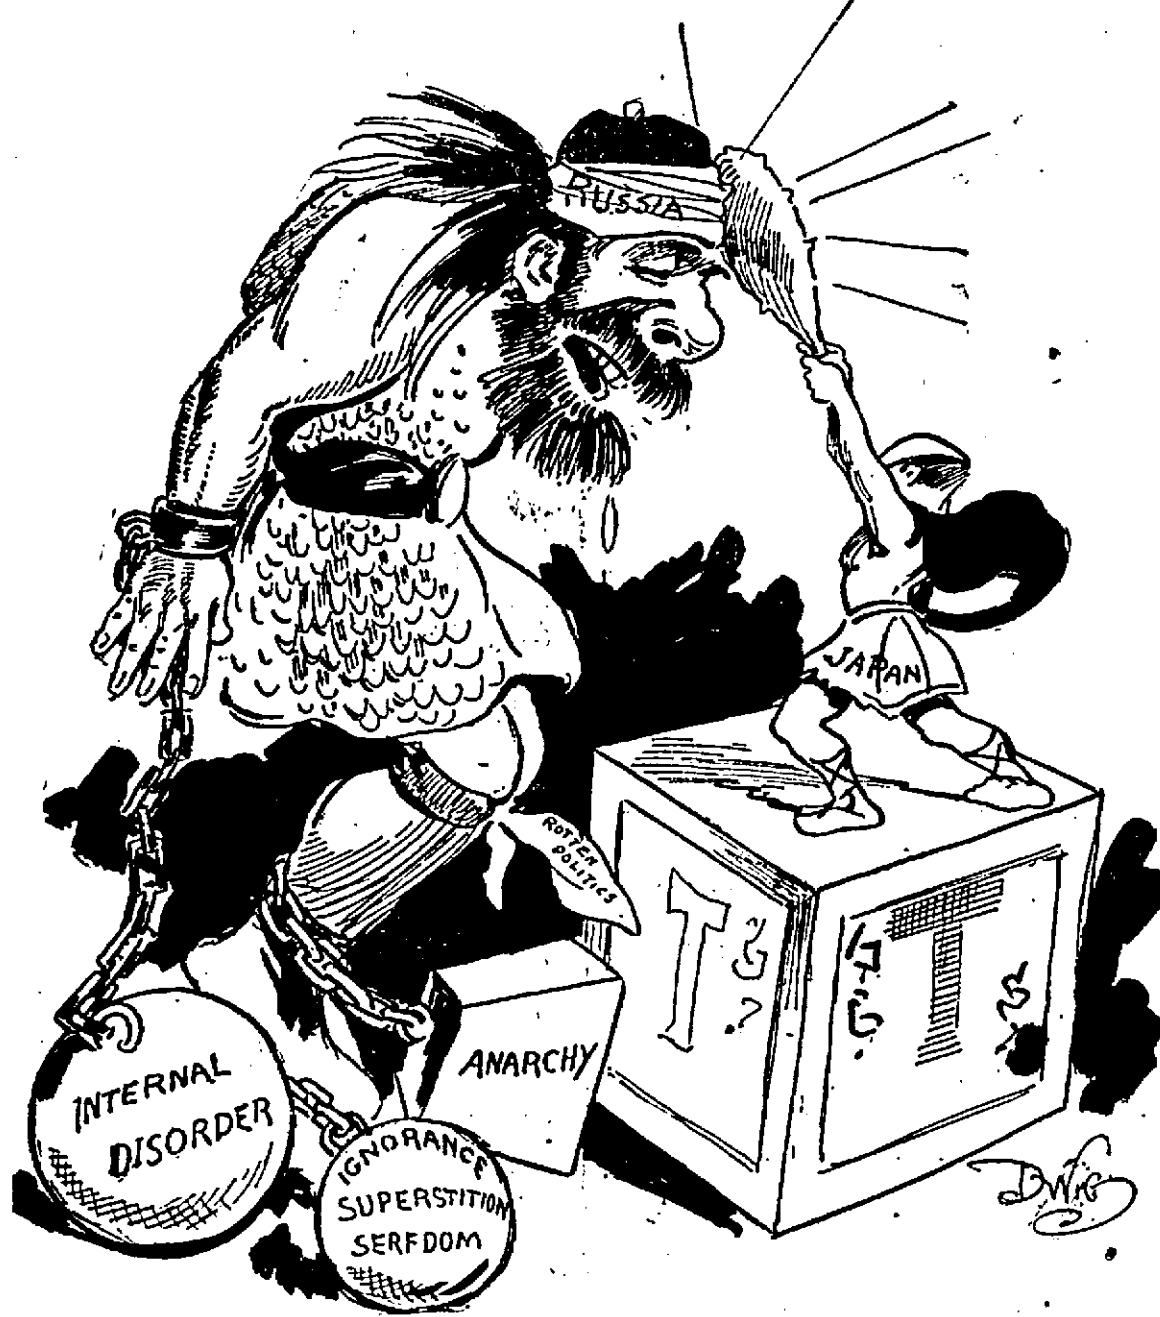

COURT RULES ON A MORTGAGE

Removal of Cattle From Kansas to Oklahoma Fails to Affect Claims.

Guthrie, Okla., March 5.—In the supreme court an opinion by Associate Justice Burwell reverses the decision of the district court of Woodward county in the case of the First National Bank of Geneseo, Ill., vs. the National Live Stock bank of Chicago involving mortgages held by each bank on a herd of cattle in Woodward county owned by W. B. Grimes. The cattle were mortgaged in Kansas, then removed to Oklahoma, but the court holds that the removal does not affect the mortgages. The Geneseo bank, according to the court petition, holds the first mortgage and the Chicago bank the second.

PLURAL WIVES THE QUESTION

President Smith Has Much to Say Regarding the Methods of Polygamy Today.

OBEDIENCE IS NOT COMPULSORY

Members of the Mormon Church Are Permitted to Follow Their Own Inclination Regarding This Feature.

Washington, March 5.—Obedience to the revelation, should the revelation be in conflict to the laws of the land. This is the personal attitude of President Joseph Fielding Smith of the Mormon church, as proclaimed to the senate committee investigating the protests against the seating of Reed Smoot Friday.

The third day of the investigation closed with President Smith still in the witness chair, the interest in his testimony being accentuated by the sensational disclosures of Thursday. President Smith again inveighed against "spotters" and "informers" and with dramatic fervor expressed his happiness over never having pried into the family affairs of others.

Church Upholds Law.

Former Congressman Taylor of counsel for the prosecution, explaining his line of questioning, told the committee he expected to show that many plural marriages have been contracted among officers of the Mormon church since the manifesto of 1890, and that as a member of the hierarchy, Mr. Smoot must have had knowledge of the fact. President Smith denied knowledge of any plural marriages contracted since that time.

President Smith said that if the principle of plural marriages was attacked publicly the Mormon church would defend it, but, while believing in the principle, he declared the church had obeyed the law, even if he personally had not. The older members of the church, he said, made an effort to uphold the laws, but the younger ones are difficult to control sometimes.

Teaches Polygamy.

Mr. Smith admitted having said in an address at the Weber state reunion in 1903 that the doctrine of plural marriages was a revelation of God to Joseph Smith, Jr., and to reject that doctrine would be to reject God himself. He also admitted Mr. Smoot was present when the address was delivered.

After these admissions he said the speech would not have been printed if he had been consulted, as he was under injunction not to teach the rightfulness of polygamy, and that he had refrained from doing so in public. This caused Senator Hoar to call attention to the fact that the address was teaching polygamy in private to an influential gathering.

In reply to Senator Hoar, Mr. Smith explained he had intended in his address merely to set right a matter of history, by showing it was Joseph Smith, Jr., and not Brigham Young who had received the revelation.

Declines to Answer.

Senator Overman asked the witness whether any one of the six polygamist apostles had disobeyed the law, in regard to polygamous cohabitation, since the manifesto of 1890, and Mr. Smith replied:

"I do not know. I only know that they were in the same status of polygamy at the time of the manifesto as I was myself. I do not pry into their family affairs. I am not a paid spy."

Senator Overman—Yet you might know without being a paid spy?

Mr. Smith—I know nothing about it. As I have said before, I am not a spotter or informer.

Senator Overman—Neither am I a paid spotter or informer, yet I know that in my town people have children. I think you might answer that question without using the words "spotter" and "informer" in that manner.

Revelation Superior to Law.

Senator Hoar wanted to know what Mr. Smith would do if the revelation conflicted with the law.

"With me, perhaps, the revelation would be uppermost," said Mr. Smith. "Can you say 'perhaps' to such a question?" Interrupted Mr. Hoar, severely. "Suppose you received a revelation commanding you people to do something which would conflict with the law of the land. Which would they have to obey?"

"Whichever they pleased," was the reply. "There is no compulsion."

In this country the celebration will have a double significance. The day will also be observed in honor of the American Bible society whose purpose is the same as that of the British body, and which was founded in 1816.

DANGER FROM THE GORGE IN CREEK

St. Paul Road Is Having Trouble Near Beloit with an Ice Jam.

The Milwaukee road is making a strong effort to keep a gorge from forming at the iron bridge crossing Turtle creek at the South Beloit belt line. There is more danger to surrounding property from the stoppage of the flow of water than to the bridge itself, although the water touches the lowest part of the bridge now. Cars of stone are on the bridge to add to its weight and the timbers have been chained to the foundations to keep them from floating away in case the water gets higher.

The water is raising a little in the creek today but if things move along as they are there will be no trouble. The ice is very thick and there is a great deal of it in the creek. The foot bridge leading to the knitting works has been partially cut away to keep the channel open. The river does not show the effects of the thaw as yet.

SOCIETY GOSSIP OF THE CITY IS DISCUSSED HERE

Bits of News Gleaned from the Doings of the Past Week...Lent Overshadows Society.

Yes, lent is now upon us! There is sparse evidence of sack-cloth and ashes, but that may be because the penitential season is but four days old as yet, and the reaction from the gay winter frivolity has hardly set in. There really is a notable decrease in the number of entertainments scheduled for the coming weeks and without doubt my lady intends to "keep lent." She will shop all morning and lay in a stock of dainty embroideries, flimsy lace and sheer dainties; consider the relative merits of tulle, tulle and tulle for spring wear and go away with a pocket full of samples; she will lunch with a friend, keep an engagement with her dressmaker, go to a lenten musicale and from there to a half-hour vesper service and the evening will be spent with a few old friends in a quiet game of bridge. There will be no cessation of activity—she will keep going, or doing something every hour of the day, but life will be a trifle less strenuous than in the mid-winter whirl and Easter will find her refreshed and with her summer wardrobe complete. Lectures and musicales are not barred during lent, even if dances and theatres are, so there are many of these being planned with "sweet charity" for the motive. Those who don't want to attend have left town.

Mrs. Charles McLean and her sister Miss Luella Bristol, who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Colin C. MacLean for a week past left yesterday for their home. Mrs. Cora Shattuck, of Earningdale, New Jersey, who is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sutherland, spent several days in Chicago during the past week. Mrs. Shattuck and her two children will remain in Janesville until the end of March. Mr. Shattuck is in the east.

Mrs. Thomas King spent several days during the past week the guest of her son, George King on Wisconsin street. Mrs. King has been making her home this past winter with her daughter, Mrs. Watson at Ravenswood, Ill.

Mrs. Edward Peterson who has been seriously ill for some weeks has so far recovered that she is able to sit up for a few hours each day. During her illness her mother, Mrs. Frank Smith, and her sister, Miss Isabelle Smith have been in constant attendance. Meanwhile the Smith home on St. Lawrence avenue has been closed for the winter.

Word has been received from Frank Sammers at Redlands, California, that they are nicely settled there and much improved in health. Their daughter and Miss Alice Sammers who remained at El Paso, joined them. They expect to remain in Redlands for some time.

Mrs. Hampton Fleck of Brookhead visited at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. George King for a day during the past week.

Mrs. John Fisher, entertained at luncheon on Friday, at her South Main street home.

Marian Marne's Talks on Fashion.

This month the readers of Marian Marne's letters will learn something of the innovations of Milady's underwear. The writer has just returned from Palm Beach where all society congregates to rest during the Lenten period. She has been bewildered by the toilets of the southern resort and writes so that the Gazette readers may know what is worn. She also takes up advanced styles for summer wear and what women do not wish to know how her eastern sister will dress when the weather is once more warm again.

I am just back from a Southern trip where I saw such a bewildering array of exquisite styles that it is difficult to choose which ones to tell about in my allotted space. I will however, confine myself to those that seem destined to take a prominent place in milady's summer wardrobe.

Pretty quaintness distinguishes many of the gowns, and picturesque old time effects and ball-like aliveness suggest the old portraits after which many of these gowns are designed. Hats match the gowns in color schemes and patterns for dressy wear are rainbow-like, and many of them they ones not over eighteen inches in diameter.

Duck and Plume are much used for trimming, and are frequently trimmed with inserts of heavy lace. Plaits skirts and short coats are extremely popular, while for the dainty blue and pink chambray the shirtwaist body is much liked, and is usually accompanied by a Panama or straw sailor adorned with a coquettish bow of ribbon, and slightly raised on the left side by a dainty bunch of flowers nestling under the brim.

The Eton jacket still depicted on the left in my illustration exemplifies the popular box-plaited skirt. When carefully cut gored so that the plaits are very narrow at the top, and gradually broaden from top to bottom this skirt is one of the most graceful models. Made of an exquisite shade of earth brown Beau de Cresp, and worn with a boat-shaped rose-trimmed cerise chapeau, it makes an excellent costume for spring and summer general wear.

For afternoon concerts and driving I saw many exquisite cloaks of lace, chiffon, peau de crepe and the like, and one that was particularly attractive was made of rich black Bonnet silk—"the kind grandmother wore." This silk has that effective softness and silkiness that only the hand-loom can give, and which made it possible in the olden days to hand silk garments down as heirlooms, and indeed the cloak I saw at Palm Beach might have been an heirloom, so quaint and "old-timey" it was.

In matters of underwear the wardrobe of milady contains little that is not airy and beautiful, and bulkiness is a thing of the past. Instead of seven pieces of underwear only four are used.

First as soft, clinging wrinkleless union suit. Next the corset, which may be of silk, cotton or batiste, but on the selection of a correct shape, such as any of the C B A or Spirite models, depends much on the success of milady's undergarmenting. There comes a garment which is corset cover and petticoat in one, with ribbed heading at neck and waist, and lace or a sheath-like long petticoat. Stockings are embroidered, openwork, lace inserted—in fact there is no limit except a purse-limit to stocking-extravagance.

PRICE OF BREAD WILL NOT GO UP

Although Flour is Higher, Bread Stays Down—Bakers Stand the Raise.

The high price in wheat and the resulting increase in the price of flour has caused a raise in the price of bread in many places and a cent per loaf has been added to the wholesale and retail quotations, in a number of places. There is to be no increase in Janesville unless wheat and flour goes much higher. Flour that has been selling about the dollar mark is now $1.10 per sack. During the Spanish war it was $2.00 a sack and the price of bread was not altered. The conditions are now the same, and that leaves quite a margin for increase before the former market is reached. The lower city bakers have their business on such a basis that it pays a profit and the increased cost of flour will be borne although the profit is cut into deeply. Until the profit is wiped out the price will be maintained at its present position.

A KNIGHT OF COLUMBIA

By General Charles King—A Story of the War. In this charming and romantic novel, General King seems to have surpassed all previous efforts. The hero, a graduate of Columbia college, first meets the reader in the Academy of Music, New York city, on the occasion of Commencement day, in 1861, at the breaking out of the war. His magnificent speech, "A Menace to the Flag," delivered on that occasion, full of the fire of patriotism, created the most intense excitement, the vast audience expressing their approval or otherwise according to their political preferences, for as yet the question of "which flag" was unsettled in the hearts of many. Then comes his enlistment, and he is fully launched on the troubled seas of those stirring times. His varied fortunes are closely followed, both in love and war, there being two fervent love stories running through the entire book. The plot is intricate and exciting, holding the reader in a tense grasp from start to finish. The historical scenes of battle are depicted in a manner worthy of this talented author, who now tells for the first time the truth about Chancellorsville, exonerating the ill-fated Eleventh corps from the odium that has always been heaped upon it, thus flatly contradicting previous accounts. This alone will be of great interest to soldier and also to civilian. The atrocities of the mob during the draft riots in New York come in for stirring descriptions, and altogether the story is one "to warm the cockles of the heart" and arouse that healthy and vigorous enthusiasm that we all enjoy. The book will come from the press of the Hohart Co. March 25th.

The January statement of the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis is the poorest monthly statement issued since the beginning of the present fiscal year. The net earnings were $3,523 in comparison with $317,719 for the same time last year.

It is believed that the Pere Marquette and the Michigan Central will resume track agreement between Chicago and New Buffalo within thirty days.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, kidney failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing either of the bladder, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell. Kidney troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy. It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Coming Attractions.

One of the best dramatic offerings of the season will be seen when "Resurrection" with Miss Florence Stone, appears at the Myers Grand next Tuesday, March 8.

"Resurrection," dramatized from Tolstoy's great novel, hailed and will CREATOR, WHO APPEARS AT THE GRAND TOMORROW EVENING always be regarded as the classic, justly played upon, and nothing is Russian drama. The wonderful genius in the slightest detail in the his only of a man like Tolstoy could presentation of Resurrection, have created the personality of a heroine such as Maslova, the hero E. H. Sothern in "The Proud Prince." In "The Proud Prince" E. H. Sothern gives us the great delight of the awakened.

It has fallen to the lot of several dramatic season. His appearance has

FLORENCE STONE IN "RESURRECTION."

American Stars to appear in this magnificent role; yet but few of them have made a lasting impression. Miss Stone is one of these few. Her portrayal of this creature of moods has sent her to the top of the theatrical firmament, and drawn the attention of the public to her.

While one of the youngest stars on the American stage, Miss Stone has appeared with some of the most noted actors, and her early training is manifested in her brilliant characterization of Maslova.

While pathos predominates throughout the four acts of "Resurrection," there are some bright scenes which relieve the story of too sombre an aspect.

In Miss Stone's support are thirty

In New York will be seen here. Not the change of a single individual has been made in the cast. Sothern's scenic effects take up three carloads. He carries the production complete. Cecilia Loftus, Mary Hall, Rowland Buckstone, William Harris, John Findlay, Sydney C. Mather, and every member of the cast who created each of the characters of "The Proud Prince" originally, are with Mr. Sothern.

Creator's Band.

This excellent organization of sixty musicians, which is to be heard here at the Myers Grand, unday evening, March 5, will be the most interesting musical event of the present season. Of its recent playing the following has been published over the signature of the famous blind critic, John S. Van Cleve of Ohio, who heard the band at Dayton. Mr. Van Cleve has the reputation of being one of the best musical critics in America, and is universally regarded as an authority in this line. The article is doubly interesting because the critic is totally blind, and was influenced entirely by the quality of the music:

From the Dayton, O. Herald, Dec. 19.

Never before last evening did I hear the band which plays under the magical baton of the dazzling Neapolitan Creator. It was to me a novel experience, and as delightful as novel. The man is little short of a wizard. He secures from his body of warm-blooded Italian artists such effects of vital, glowing, yes, actually burning, music as I have never heard surpassed.

His readings verge upon the sensational, but when the right music is under his hand, the effect is startling and electrifying. For example, the realistic imitation of thunder in the procession of Wagner's "Rheingold," where Thor, the God of the lightning, splits the rock with his omnipotent hammer, was the finest thing of the sort that I ever heard. Again the entire set of excerpts from "Carmen," with the clever bridges which dovetailed them together, was done with a snap, a fervor, a wild abandon utterly Southern and Spanish.

As San Francisco druggists personally acquainted with the facts we are asked to certify to you the curability of chronic Bright's Disease and Diabetes, and however unreasonable it may seem to you yet such is the fact. Up to a year ago we never heard of a genuine case of chronic Bright's Disease nor Diabetes recovering. Now it is a common occurrence in this city. A great discovery has undoubtedly been made. Many prominent people here have recovered and every one of us whose names are appended hereto have either had recoveries among our customers or have genuine chronic cases now recovering. And the percentage of efficiency seems to be very high, for there are very few failures.

EZRA S. BRUNDO

Author of "The Fugitive"

Ezra S. Brundo, who has written "The Fugitive," interpreting the new Jew in America, is himself a member of a distinguished family of Russia. His grandfather was chief rabbi of Lithuania, a Russian province, and his father, mayor of Wlozozin, fell into political disfavor and fled to America. He was first a rabbi at McKeesport, Pennsylvania, and later a manufacturer at Cleveland. Subsequently he studied law at Adelbert college and at Yale. He is now a successful lawyer in Cleveland. "The Fugitive," which is published by Doubleday, Page & Company, is fiction, but interwoven with truth stranger than fiction, with a new conception of the relationship between Jew and gentile in which love conquers creed. Asked the other day about his nationality, Mr. Brundo said: "I am an American citizen born in Russia."

GAZETTE PRINTING CO.

OUR SATURDAY NIGHT.

A Janesville business man, in speaking to a company of young men at a banquet, not long since, related a scrap of personal experience to which he attributed success.

He said that he left school from the grades, at the age of 16 and entered a store as delivery boy. Ambition prompted him to do a little thinking and planning for himself, and he decided that some day he would like to be a banker.

It seemed a long stride from the delivery wagon to the title of cashier and especially at the end of three years when he resigned his position with $300 in his pocket and no bank in sight. But the years had not been spent in vain, for he had acquired habits of industry, promptness, honesty, and economy, which produced not only character, but reputation as well. Two or three years behind the counter and a vacancy occurred in a local bank which the boy was invited to fill.

The boy was watched, but did not know it until he was offered a position, and partnership in a bank in a western state, by a man who knew him.

The offer, which came as a great surprise was accepted and for 15 years the young man engaged successfully in the business to which he was adapted, and which he decided to follow when a boy. He advised young men to plan for the work of life and then develop the plan.

The subject under discussion was, "Opportunities for young men in the twentieth century." It was of course conceded that they were never greater than at the present time.

In speaking of some of the requisites necessary to success, a clergyman present made the statement that adaptability for the special work in hand, could not be overestimated.

He argued that many good men made a failure of life by attempting to do what neither God nor nature ever intended them to undertake.

He believed the time would come when every school teacher would feel the responsibility of directing the boy into the channels of adaptability and that teachers who are unable to do this important work, would not be in demand.

This may seem like a startling proposition and yet it contains more than a grain of truth, and the suggestion is full of hard common sense.

It may be argued that this duty belongs to the father, and that no teacher has a right to interfere, but it is well to remember that the average father is satisfied to have his boy follow in his footsteps and take up his calling whatever that may be.

The principle encouragement which a great many boys receive from their fathers is in the statement that they ought to be thankful for their privileges, as compared with the privations of their ancestors. This kind of talk while entertaining to the boy soon becomes a chestnut and is never very helpful.

The American boy and his father are seldom companions he is said to the discredit of the father, for it ought not so to be. The teacher is expected to be both counselor and advisor, and the conscientious teacher seldom realizes how much the boy depends upon her judgment.

The school accomplishes its highest mission, so far as the boy is concerned, when it discovers the line of his greatest possibilities, and then intelligently prepares him for his life work. This may mean anything but a higher education.

If the boy has professional instincts encourage him to work his way through college at any cost for in this age of sharp competition he will need the best endowment that the schools can supply.

If he has commercial inclinations, see that he becomes a good accountant, teach him to compose readily, see that he can write a good business hand, and then advise him to strike out for some good business office before he reaches the age of 18.

The experience that he will gain from the school of life before he is 21 years old is worth more to him than any school can supply, and if he fails to get it his chances for success in the business world are limited.

The same is true of the boy who possesses mechanical genius, and this is where the manual training school is of great value. Boys of this class are numerous and they are entitled to every encouragement.

Like the commercial boys they should be thoroughly grounded in the principles of a common school education, developed as far as possible in the manual training department and then sent out to graduate in hard school of every day experience.

The opportunities for young men in the twentieth century are good, but the chances for failure are also abundant. This is not the fault of the boy and he should not be held responsible.

God intended the average boy to succeed, and his chances for success will be infinitely improved when both the home and the school appreciate more fully the grave responsibility resting upon them.

Other things being equal, men who work in channels of adaptability are the men who accomplish the largest measure of success. The boy who is started in the right channel has everything in his favor and he will ever remember with gratitude the man or woman who started him right.

PRESS COMMENT

La Crosse Leader and Press: If Mr. Schwab stays at Monte Carlo, America will be in a fair way to get back some of the money her helmsmen have taken to Europe.

Atchison Globe: An Atchison young man has maintained a coaling station in a north Atchison parlor all this winter, but he will have to go to war with the young lady's father to hold it another season.

Oshkosh Northwestern: Oshkosh is not greedy for the state capital, but it wants it for the sake of benefitting and accommodating a far larger proportion of the population of the state than under the present arrangement.

Chicago News: When the news that the "Parafal" profits in New York amounted to $100,000 gets as far as Baltimore, the world may expect to hear the Wagner family making a few more remarks about the awful profanation of Pa Wagner's masterpieces.

La Crosse Leader and Press: Oshkosh is a serious candidate for the State Capital. The Northwestern devotes most of its editorial space in Monday's issue to comparing the advantages of Oshkosh and Milwaukee and urging the people of the former city to awake to a realization of their opportunity. Eau Claire and Fond du Lac will also be candidates, making, with Milwaukee and Madison, four actively seeking it, besides a number of others likely to come into the field later. La Crosse is not yet a candidate but may become so should it develop that the question of the location of the capital to be fairly taken up. he can present advantages superior to those of any of the other cities named.

Evening Wisconsin: The regular Democrats who are inclined to sneer at the pretensions of William Randolph Hearst to be their presidential candidate, are gradually waking up to the conviction that he will have a large crowd following in their national convention. Tom Johnson, the mayor of Cleveland and mogul of the Democracy of Ohio, has not only declared for Hearst but he is working

Mrs. Wm. J. Knapp, 83 E. 8th St., Traverse City, Mich., says: "I write this hoping that it will be the means of helping some suffering woman. Seventeen years ago last fall I was taken sick with weakness and was in bed all winter. Just as soon as I would get up I would faint and fall. Three of the best doctors in our town could not help me; then my husband wrote to that dear old Dr. Peck and he sent me Zoa Flora. The first dose helped me, and in one month I was up doing my work and being sick in bed from the 21st of November until the next May. The medicine he sent me was Zoa Flora, and if it hadn't been for dear old Dr. Peck and Zoa Flora, I would not be here to write this."

Write the Zoa Flora Co., Kalamazoo, Mich., for a free trial bottle and copy of their illustrated medical book, "Dr. Peck's Advice to Women." The doctor will gladly give free special advice when needed. Zoa Flora is for sale at $1.00 a bottle by all druggists.

WEEKLY GOSSIP FROM UNIVERSITY

WHAT IS DOING IN THE ATHLETIC CIRCLES.

BASE BALL AND CREW TALK

News of Various Nature Picked Up at the Seat of Learning During Week Past.

(Special to The Gazette.)
Madison, Wis., March 5.—Wisconsin university has an epidemic of measles among the students upon its hands of such proportions as to cause the faculty to meet and consider the advisability of closing the school for a time. Physicians have been busy for several days with multitudinous calls to the Latin quarter of the city and it is estimated that upwards of 50 cases of the disease exists. Students boarding houses and fraternity houses have been turned into veritable hospitals. Among these the Sigma Alpha Epsilon and the Theta Delta Chi. The disease has not developed in a very virulent form.

Going to Chicago.
Owing to the occupation of the Wisconsin university gymnasium by the desks and office fixtures saved from the burning capitol building Saturday last, and to the epidemic of measles prevailing, the intercollegiate gymnastic meet scheduled to be held here March 10, will all likelihood, be transferred to Chicago. The request for the transfer was made by Wisconsin and is expected to be acceded to by the maroons.

Base Ball.
The championship of the western colleges in baseball for the season of 1904 is already almost claimed, so strongly is it predicted at the University of Wisconsin. At the badger university seven members of the nine of last year are back trying to regain their old places, but so good is the new material and so poor were some of the members last year that several changes will be made. Practice is daily being held in the practice baseball cage in the top story of the gymnasium, in charge of Coach "Dennis" Pierce and the captain, George Lewis. Mr. Pierce has secured a release from his contract with the St. Paul team of the American league and will perhaps rejoin the team after the university playing season is over. The material for the Wisconsin team is better than for several years and a strong aggregation is said to be assured. Among the leading candidates for positions are:

Pitchers—Captain Gordon Lewis, A. D. Sunderland, C. W. Zieprecht, G. A. Foss, M. C. Rogers, and Will Young.
Catchers—M. E. Allen, T. E. Leahy, C. S. Perry, and G. A. Field.
Infielders—J. P. Bush, J. B. Whitmore, F. E. Bollinger, S. Erickson, and L. E. Broome.
Outfielders—J. B. Hoels, C. H. Lange, R. K. Thompson, W. H. Smith, J. Fitzgerald, G. H. Palmer and J. E. Dean.

The Boat Crews
Madison, Wis., March 5.—Negotiations are in progress to get the crew of the Duluth Boat club to contest with the Wisconsin oarsmen at Madison during the great jubilee celebration of the university early in June. An effort is being made to raise enough money among the students and alumni to maintain the crew department of the university for the present season, the athletic association being practically bankrupt. Already nearly $1,000 has been raised and training will be abandoned until it is known how much money can be raised. The first call for funds has been generously met and it is now believed the poverty of the athletic association will not be disastrous to the oarsmen. It is expected that $5,000 will be raised, enough to maintain the training and send eight-oared, varsity and freshmen and a four-oared varsity to the annual eastern intercollegiate regatta on the Hudson river at Poughkeepsie in the latter part of June. Coach O'Dea has issued a statement in which he says that the material at hand for the crews is better than he ever had before and that the Wisconsin crews this year will be composed of six-footers if the training is kept up.

MANY ATTEND MASS MEETING

OF FARMERS CALLED BY WISCONSIN SUGAR CO.

PRES-WAGNER'S PROPOSITION

To Build a 800-Ton Factory This Year or Forfeit $5,000 Is Made—C. W. Fraser Speaks.

An immense crowd of farmers and citizens attended the meeting called by President Wagner at the Myers hotel this afternoon. Attorney John Fisher called the meeting to order. He referred to certain statements made by Theodore Hapke at the meeting in the rink last Saturday, and the refusal of the management to allow Pres. Wagner to reply. He also referred to the meeting held yesterday and made the statement that could not be announced at that time. He said that the $5,000 check was to be distributed pro rata among the growers who contracted in event of forfeiture and the beets would be sent to Menomonee Falls.

Pres. Wagner Speaks
It is still our intention to build a factory here and always has been, said Pres. Wagner. The statements made at the meeting last Saturday are false. No such letters are in existence as those referred to. We have made good success with our Menomonee Falls factory and we want to do the same here.
Irrespective of Others
We will build a factory irrespective of what the Canada Co. does if we can get the contracts. We have until April 1 to decide. We can get the machinery and build the factory in time for this year. We ask for 5,000 acres including what we now have. We've got the citizens against us. We would like to have the farmers with us and would be pleased to have a committee appointed to take charge of the matter.

C. W. Fraser, editor of the Wisconsin Sugar Beet, who was conspicuous at the rink meeting last Saturday spoke first. He made only veiled references to his visit in Canada last week but finally upon being questioned allowed that he had been there and had not found the farmers shiftless and lazy as Mr. Hapke had represented them to be. Upon being pressed for further particulars he said that the Dresden factory last Thursday was standing intact; that no effort had been made to tear it down; and that the Canadian government would be heard from whenever any such move shall be made as the factory had located in Dresden on a bonus.

Committee of Five
On a motion offered, seconded, and carried a committee consisting of David Clark, Mr. Beers, John Decker, James Caldwell, and Charles Schmacker, was appointed to take charge of the work of securing the 5,000 acres necessary for a factory this year. The acreage already secured is to count as a part of the five thousand.
Good But Too Small
In later remarks Pres. Wagner said that Capt. Davidson's factory was a good one—that it was not scrap iron by any means—but that it was too small. Janesville needed an 800 ton factory while the Dresden concern was but 600-ton capacity. John Decker and W. T. Nowle were appointed as a committee to visit the two factories and report to the farmers' organization.

SLIGHT CLUE TO BELOIT MYSTERY

Man Left Team There Monday Last, and Has Not Been Seen in the Line City Since.

Chief R. G. Scheibel of Beloit has at last discovered a clue to what became of the mysterious stranger who Monday night left his team and other property at the Smith livery stable in Beloit. The indication is that he went from Beloit to Rockford. The man entered the barber shop of the Shea Brothers, and asked for a shave including the cutting of his mustache. He told the barber the same story that he had narrated at the barn but added that he had left two hangers in a livery barn at Rockford. He said that he intended to take the next car for the Forest city to look for them.
The fact that the man had his mustache shaved may be taken to indicate that he was trying to disguise himself. This would tend to support the theory that he had stolen on the property he had with him.

TO TELL STORY OF CAPTIVITY

Madam Tsilka, Her Husband, and Babe, Born While She Was a Prisoner, To Be Here Thursday.

Madam Tsilka, who with her husband and child comes to Janesville next Thursday, the first named to deliver a lecture in the evening at the Congregational church under the auspices of the ladies of the congregation, was born in Bulgaria and was converted to Christianity at the Samokov girls' school. Her husband is the only Christian preacher among the Albanians of whom there are two million. The story of her captivity with Ellen Stone among the Bulgarian brigands and the missionary work in the far off country from which she comes will be the principal topics of her lecture. The tour is made for the purpose of accumulating a fund for the girls' school at Korchia conducted under the auspices of the Woman's Board of Missions of the Interior.

SCIENCE NIGHT OF THE TWILIGHT CLUB

Mental Telepathy, Radium and Practical Forestry to Be Discussed—Prof. Smith to Demonstrate.

Members of the Twilight club are looking forward with considerable anticipation to the Science night set for Tuesday of next week. Herbert J. Cunningham will act as leader and an interesting array of subjects to be discussed is set forth in the program just issued. Malcolm O. Mout will take his hearers into the vague, illusive, but alluring realms of "Mental Telepathy." Nearly every person who believes in telepathy has had within the range of his own observation certain strange phenomena which are inexplicable as mere coincidences. The general discussion of this subject as well as that of "Psychical Science" on which William Smith is to speak, should prove very interesting. W. B. Jackson will read a paper on "Cement Concrete." Prof. E. F. Smith will talk of "Radium" and will exhibit some of this most costly substance in the world at the meeting. E. M. Griffith, state superintendent of forests, will give an illustrated talk on "Practical Forestry." The meeting should prove one of the most interesting of the season.

GOLFERS WATCH FOR SPRING NOW

NEW WAGON PURCHASED FOR THE CLUB'S USE.

PLAY TO START SOON

Immediately the Snow and Ice Is Off the Ground Playing Will Be. gin in Earnest.

Golfers are eagerly watching the weather and praying for good warm days to clear the links of snow and ice so that playing may begin. As soon as the last batch of snow and ice go there will be any number of enthusiastic golfers, with their bags and clubs and Scotch accents who will try their hand to see that they have lost none of their cunning during the cold winter past. A week more they say and with the present warm wave and playing can begin. Not good playing but playing.

Plans For Year.
The committee who have had charge of purchasing a new conveyance report they have secured a fine comfortable wagonette. A new horse has also been bought with a complete new harness so that riding to and from the cars to the grounds will be a pleasure this summer not a feat to be marveled at that the passengers did not fall out of the old wagon. This equipage will seat ten persons easily.

Same Driver.
Bernard Pufahl will again be in charge of the grounds and will see that the grass is cut and kept properly trimmed. He will also have charge of the wagonette and horse and will be just as accommodating as ever about driving belated parties down town late at night as ever. The regular season will not open before Decoration day.

Have Caterer.
Frank Kent will again be in charge of the cafe and buffet. This system proved such a success last year that it has been decided to continue it again this summer and Mr. Kent will be placed in charge. The tennis court will be put in shape for the honorary members if they so desire and the putting clock and the croquet set will also be in use.

Warning to Infringers of Hollow Block Patents

The phenomenal success of the Harmon S. Palmer method of concrete building, with his concrete blocks, patented May 25, 1901, and No. 674, 874, as well as the machine which makes them, patented April 25, 1899, and No. 623,686 is almost sure to bring out base imitations and unscrupulous infringers.
Therefore, it becomes a duty to inform the public that buildings erected of these patented blocks are subject to royalty and mechanic's lien if the same is not settled. This notice is deemed a sufficient warning to all parties not to invest money without knowing that license has been procured from The Harmon S. Palmer Hollow Concrete Building Block Company, of Washington, D. C., owners of basic patents on machines or processes, blocks and hollow walls. A disregard of this notice will be sufficient cause for filing mechanic's lien on all such buildings, and for first information of such infringement, a reward will be paid. Address the company as above.

SYNOPSIS.

Chapter I.—Minard Hendricks, great detective, just returned from Boston, finds waiting him an unsigned letter directing him to apartments in Palace hotel, where he will find remains of Mr. Weldon Caruthers—currently reported for past two weeks to be out of town. Detective seems to connect letter with attempt made on his own life some time previous. Goes with friend, Dr. Lamplin, to investigate.

Chapter II.—Upon search of Caruthers' apartments remains of cremated body and jeweled hand of victim are found in a vase. Hand bears marks of finger nails manicured to sharp points. Lamplin recalls reports of a row between Caruthers and Arthur Gielow, both suitors for hand of Dorothy Huntington, who is heiress to several millions should she marry Caruthers, unconditionally in case of Caruthers' death.

Chapter III.—Late that night Hendricks and Lamplin call at home of Miss Huntington.

Chapter IV.—Dorothy shows detective typewritten letter, which was an invitation for herself and aunt to occupy with Count Bantini, Italian nobleman, his box at horse show, as he was called out of town by pressing business.

Chapter V.—She recalls Gielow had expressed before murder intense hatred for Caruthers and believes him guilty, yet decides to help him, and with her aunt goes to his studio.

Chapter VI.—Gielow has fled. His servant, Henri, tells of overheard conversation to Bantini. Henri thought his master insane. Hendricks, concealed in room, hears all this.

Chapter VII.—Hendricks goes to consult Tolan, an East Indian interested in occult researches who had helped him in much previous detective work, and located in an old colonial mansion among the palisades.

Chapter VIII.—Dr. Lamplin is summoned by Hendricks, who has been shot. He is removed and detective warned not to leave his room.

Chapter IX.—Hendricks' unknown enemy had tried to choke him in his sleep. Detective had waked just in time, but was wounded by pistol shot before he could prevent his assailant's escape.

Chapter X.—Hendricks calls for a criminal empire, who has been shot. He is removed and detective warned not to leave his room.

Chapter XI.—Miss Huntington receives letter from Gielow, his own handwriting, postmarked at Charleston, S. C., telling of his crime and flight.

Chapter XII.—Noted graphologist examines handwriting of this letter and says it is genuine. He calls on Sergt. Denham, detective of police department. Hendricks comes into possession of cuff with words written in blood over Gielow's name to effect that he was innocent, starving and cold.

Chapter XIII.—Going to Gielow's studio, Henri identifies cuff as his master's. Henri tells of strange influence Bantini had over Gielow. Hendricks comes to conclusion Bantini was the murderer, and through hypnotism made Gielow confess both in person to Henri and by letters to others.

Chapter XIV.—Hendricks and Lamplin go to Kola's retreat. Kola tells them Gielow is dead, and to prove his supernatural powers claims to go to detective's home in his astral body and bring back a Bible, which is handed to Hendricks amidst a lot of occult balderdash. Kola warns detective an attempt is to be made on his life.

Chapter XV.—Reaching home, Hendricks learns how nearly Kola deceived him when his mother tells of disappearance of Bible after one of Kola's calls during his absence in Boston.

His heart sank within him. Tremblingly he took off his remaining cuff, but the blood drop had become smeared and dry on his wrist, and his right hand shook pitifully.

"It's no use," he said, with a groan. Again he peered through the cryptic. The sun seemed to be going down. The lovers had risen, and arm in arm, were strolling away. For a few moments Gielow lay motionless on the straw, then he tried to replace the wedge of stone to hide the opening from Bantini, but he was so weak that it fell from his nerveless fingers.

All at once it grew dark about him. He felt as if he were being tossed on the bosom of an angry sea.

Twenty-four hours later there was a hurried step outside. The door opened and Count Bantini came in, holding a lantern over his head. He brought pen, ink, a pad of paper and an envelope. The darkness outside and the shine of his lantern prevented his seeing the crack in the rock.

Putting the lantern down by the artist, he shook him violently.

"Wake up," he said, gruffly. "I want you to write. Write! Write, I say!"

But Gielow did not stir.

The count swore sullenly and lifted

St. engineer at the Janesville Electric Light Co., says: "I tried about everything recommended for itching of the skin, but found nothing to give me relief until I struck Doan's Ointment at the People's drug store. I had an affection of the skin on my face, caused from the burning oil about the engine and dynamo. My face itched and annoyed me, and rubbing it only made it worse and made it sore. I could hardly stand shaving for the skin broke and bled. A few applications of Doan's Ointment removed the itching and healed up my face in a few days. I would not be without this remedy in my house and I certainly recommend it to others in need of such a preparation."
